MOVEMENT SPACE HAMBURG

Daimlerstraße 71 a | HH

Welcome!

Movement Space Hamburg is an open place for work and exchange dedicated to dance, performing arts, and body-based practices. As part of the Erika Klütz Schule für Theatertanz und Tanzpädagogik, it combines education, artistic practice, and dance.

The spaces can be used for rehearsals, research, movement exploration, regular classes, training formats, and workshops. In addition to the dance studios, a seminar room and a library are also available, suitable for meetings, workshops, and other theory-based or discursive formats.

We are committed to being a discrimination-free environment and to fostering an atmosphere of respect, openness, and mutual care, in which people of diverse backgrounds, identities, and experiences are welcome. We aim to create a place where cultural diversity, as well as a wide range of dance and movement practices, can become visible and come into dialogue. Discrimination or harassment will not be tolerated.

Our goal is to create a vibrant hub for dance in Hamburg — a place for artistic work, learning, exchange, and shared development.
